

. You can take a taxi. You will pay from 30 to 40 €, depending on the traffic and the number of bags.

.You can also take the Aerobus, which will take you to Plaça de Catalunya. The return ticket is 10,20€.

Then you will have to take the metro:

You should then buy the T-10 Card, a multi-person travel card valid for 10 intermodal journeys. Passengers have 75 minutes between the first and last validation when changing lines or mode of transport. You can buy it from the metro automatic vending machines, 9.95€

Take line L6 towards Reina Elisenda, and after 6 stops get off at Les Tres Torres.

There's only one way out, by the middle of the train. Then don't take the staircase, use the elevator on your left and you will arrive in « Via Augusta ». On the other side of the street, you will see a somewhat round building with blue letters: « institut optalmologic tres torres ». Now cross the « Via Augusta » and follow the small street that passes by the institut to the left, this street is « carrer del Dr. Roux ». A little further down, take the first street on your right, « carrer del Rosari » and then the first street on your left, « carrer della Nena Casas ». Casa Sant Felip Neri is nr 37-47.
